

Hello first grade families!

This week in Math we continued learning about adding 0 and 1, doubles, number sentences and line segments. In ELA we read Read A Cupcake, learned about final cluster sounds, synonyms and prepositions. We learned about story structure. In Science we continued learning about plants and also finished our plant experiment.

Next week we plan on doing lots of activities with a Thanksgiving theme.

Just a reminder that next Friday, November 20th, is a minimum day. Dismissal is at 12 noon.

Please remember to pack an extra snack and a lunch if your student is going to extended care that day.

Please have your student wear a jacket since the cooler weather is finally here.

Please have their name marked clearly in any jackets or sweaters they bring to school.

If you are able to bring any donations in, we are in need of copy paper please. All of your donations are greatly appreciated.

For next Friday, please let me know if someone can bring in Capri suns or some sort of juice box and maybe a pre packaged treat for our morning snack please?

Just a reminder that school is closed November 23-November 27th in observance of Thanksgiving. School resumes November 30th.

Lastly, I apologize that the homework packets did not go out today. They were in their homework folders ready to go and unfortunately were left on my desk. They will go home Monday afternoon.

Have a great weekend.

Mrs. Campos
