January 15, 2021

This week has been all about kindness. We have been learning about Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and what it means to be treated equally. We learned that Dr. King worked to change laws that were unfair. We learned lots of new words like 'equality', 'courage' and 'freedom'. We compared the laws of today and talked about how much they have changed. We are thankful for Dr. King and all of his hard work. For reading this week we talked about the letter N n and read books about storms. We learned about different animals that live in the snow. For math we continued to count pennies and started to learn about 3D shapes. The first shape we talked about was a cube. We compared a cube to a square and talked about the differences. For Bible, we read about Jesus calling His disciples and how we can be fishers of men and spread God's word and love.

Reminder-if you have not brought your child's extra supplies of crayons, markers, white board markers and pencils please do so. We are trying to replenish all student's supplies throughout the year or as things get worn down and dried out.

January 29th is a minimum day and D.E.A.R Day (Drop Everything And Read). It is also pajama day. More information will go home as the date gets closer.

There is no school on Monday, January 18th in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.

Have a great weekend!
