May 14, 2021

We had an exciting week in kindergarten. Our butterflies hatched! It was fun to watch the whole process of metamorphosis from start to finish. We were able to let them all go and watched them fly away. We also began our Ocean unit. We started with sharks! We are almost shark experts now, so ask your child to tell you a fact about them! For Bible we have been learning about Pentecost. For math, we continue to focus on money as well as adding numbers together. For ELA, we were focusing on more sight words this week. We want to encourage all students to really work on any Rainbow Words they have left. We want to end the year on a high note for reading especially.

Our kindergarten graduation will be on Tuesday, June 1st. We are going to split the graduation ceremonies. Mrs. Fernandez's class will graduate at 9:00 am and Miss Mathews' class will graduate at 9:45. We will have graduation ceremonies in the Fellowship Hall. More information will be sent home in the following weeks so please keep your eye out.

We are asking each family to provide a 3 ring binder for each student. We would love to have these by the end of next week.

Have a great weekend!
