

Mr. Miller's 3rd Grade Newsletter

Good afternoon parents,

This week had a few new items we covered and one of the Journey's test had to be moved to next week. We still completed the spelling test. There will be no new spelling words for next week. Next week, we will be writing letters and drawing pictures to honor our local veterans. I will take the pictures and letters to the different units on Travis, AFB.

We will be conducting a book report after Thanksgiving break. I want all the students to have the same book. The book is Super Fudge, by Judy Blume. Please order your student the paperback copy so they can read in class. The final project will be due the week before Christmas break. Here is the link for the book on amazon.
