Forms went home today

It's that time of year again, Apples for the Arts fundraiser form went home today and is due October 18th!

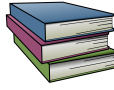

Harvest Festival

We have voted and came up with the theme of Up!

We have picked out some things on Amazon to help us build our trunk. If you guys would like to help out by purchasing said items please see the link.

We will need the balloons blown up that day as well if someone has a helium hook up. We will also need help setting up that afternoon. They do not need to dress up in this theme, only if they want to. I know several already have their costumes.
